Additional titles for the official selection and the Locarno jury

Two new films have been added to the official selection of the 61st Locarno International Film Festival, which opens on August 6th. StoryOfJen, a second feature by François Rotger (France/Canada) starring Marina Hands (Lady Chatterley), will screen as a world première in the International Competition – which now comprises a total of 18 films. There is also a new addition to the Filmmakers of the Present Competition, likewise rounding it up to 18 confirmed features: Prince of Broadway by Sean Baker (United States). The two films will be screened on Thursday August 14.

In addition, the jury for the International Competition is now complete with confirmation of its final member: Israeli actor Liron Levo, whose credits include several films with Amos Gitai. The final jury, then, is composed of Rachida Brakni (actress, France), Masahiro Kobayashi (filmmaker, Japan), Liron Levo (actor, Israel), Dani Levy (actor and director, Switzerland), Bertha Navarro (producer, Mexico), Goran Paskaljevic (filmmaker, Serbia) and Paolo Sorrentino (filmmaker, Italy).
